

2021-2022 Master Lumberman

WWPA Annual Meeting
May 24-26, Skamania Lodge, Stevenson Washington

Master Lumberman Award Program

Six lumbermen have been approved by the review committee to receive the Master Lumberman Award for 2021 & 2022. These six gentlemen will bring to 431 the number of recipients of the award since the program was inaugurated in 1968.

This distinguished award is presented to outstanding lumbermen who have demonstrated knowledge, competence and dedication in fostering the principles of quality lumber manufacture. The recipients of this award have been Certified Lumber Graders for a minimum of 20 years and have comprehensive knowledge of the lumber manufacturing process.

Through their many years of experience and commitment to the highest ideals of the Western lumber industry, the following are awarded the title of Master Lumberman.

2021-2022 Master Lumberman

Ezequiel Barajas

Idaho Forest Group, LLC

Adam J. Bauer

PotlatchDeltic Corporation

Steven E. Coalman

Stimson Lumber Company

Everett W. Easley III

Collins

Jose Armando Lavalle

Sierra Pacific Industries

Gordon R. Watts

The logo for MICROTEC features the word "MICROTEC" in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The letter "I" in "MICRO" is replaced by a small red square. The text is set against a solid teal rectangular background.

Ezequiel Barajas

Moyie Springs, Idaho

Ezequiel was born in Peñas Nayarit, and attended Bonners Ferry High School in Idaho. He was eighteen when he got his first sawmill job. Prior to becoming Head Grader/QC for Idaho Forest Group in Moyie Springs, Zeke built a solid background of milling knowledge by mastering almost every task in the planer and boiler/kiln departments.

"I started working for Crown Pacific in 1996 and my first job was clean up. I then was transferred to swing shift for the stacker sticker tender job. After a few months I was awarded the green chain bid until Crown closed the doors. 2 weeks after Crown shut its doors, I started working in Moyie Springs for Louisiana Pacific on April 4th 1997. I started on swing shift clean up and it didn't take long before I started learning new jobs such as, dry chain, feeder man and forklift to name a few."

In 1998 Ezequiel started learning how to grade. He was grading part time and filling in when needed. He got enough footage and inspections and in September of 2000 he got certified. In August of 2013 the Head Grader position in Moyie Springs became open and Zeke felt like it was a great job opportunity. He is currently in the Head Grader position.

Ezequiel has four children, Gaby 21, Evan 19, Marissa 15 and Jaxon 9. When not at work Zeke enjoys training and competing in Spartan events.

"Overall I think my greatest achievement is that I was given the opportunity to learn and become a valuable asset on how lumber manufacturing works. Receiving the Master Lumberman award is by far a career high achievement for me. It's such an honor that my employer put my name in to be nominated. In a few words, hard work pays off and I'm very excited to receive this prestigious award."

Adam J. Bauer

PotlatchDeltic Corporation
St. Maries, Idaho

Adam was born in South Milwaukee, Wisconsin and graduated from St. Maries High School in 1986 in St. Maries, Idaho. He began his first position in a sawmill in 1996 at twenty-six years old as a hog-watch at St. Maries Lumber (now PotlatchDeltic).

Adam started his career in the forestry industry out of high school with the U.S. Forest Service. He spent three years working as a trail boss. Adam then moved into silviculture and gained experience doing region, stand, and fertilizer plot exams, as well as running flag lines for contract thinning.

When his first child was born, he decided he needed full-time work, year-round with benefits. He applied for a position at PotlatchDeltic and started in early 1996. During this time, he watched the Graders work and learned to grade, which he “really” enjoyed and eventually became WWPA Certified.

Adam’s greatest work-related achievement has been the process to become Grader Certified. Over the years, Adam has received eleven High Q Awards. He was proud every year to receive these awards. When the mill turned to an automated grading system in 2016, he was given the opportunity to become a Check Grader and is now the Head Check Grader in Quality Control.

Adam is married to Holly Bauer, with whom they share two children, son Bradley and daughter Jenna, as well as two grandsons, Chance and Oliver. Some of his favorite non-work-related activities include snowmobiling, four-wheeling, and boating. He also has a passion for hunting, hiking into high-mountain lakes, and fishing with his family.

“Receiving this award is a remarkable example of a proper ‘butterfly effect’ as a culmination of opportunities that I chose to accept as well as all the coaching and training I received over the years, up to this point.”

Steven E. Coalman

Stimson Lumber Company
Clatskanie, Oregon

Steven was born in Astoria, Oregon, and graduated from Clatskanie High School in 1985. He was nineteen when he got his first sawmill job at RSG Forest Products as a planer chain puller in Mist Oregon.

“In September 1999 I was hired at Stimson Lumber Company as a grader in Clatskanie Oregon. It took me two years to receive my first WWPA certification. In the years following I received a total of five WWPA certifications.”

During the past 21 years, Steve has graded on-line at both the planer and timber deck. Steve’s grade knowledge earned him the opportunity to learn grade sawing skills from a senior head sawyer. Today Steve is a highly skilled grade Sawyer and continues to utilize his knowledge and skill as a Sawyer to develop new talent in all machine centers.

“Throughout the years I have had several accomplishments that I am proud of.

My certifications are certainly one of them. Other achievements include creating our current log sorts which are intended to maximize the efficiency and value of the log fiber we process. Organizing and orchestrating log tests that insured we had profitable margins while paying up on log sorts that insured they would come to Stimson Clatskanie for processing. Helping our team develop our scan system which is extremely unique.”

Steven and his wife Belinda have been married for 35 years. They have three children and seven grandchildren. When not working, Steven spends his time with his family, camping, fishing and shooting.

“This award is a reflection of the opportunity I have been given by Stimson, WWPA, my wife, and the great many people I have worked with over the years. I feel it is one of my greatest achievements related to my career and work history.”

Everett W. Easley III

Collins

Chester, California

Everett was born in Redding California and attended Fall River Jr/Sr High School in Fall River Mills, California. His first sawmill job was at Big Valley Lumber Company in Bieber, California.

"I have been employed at Big Valley Lumber Company, Sierra Pacific Industries and Collins Pine Company over the past 35 years. I have held jobs such as lumber grader, quality control, planer supervisor, sawmill supervisor for both large and small logs and loaded kilns. I also acquired my grading certificate. In the planer I got the opportunity to learn how to grade commons, dimension, shop, VG, jamb and head stock, timbers and moulding and selects.

One of the things I really enjoyed was training new graders. A situation that was important to me was when one of the guys on my shift had a colored past and had a really difficult time adjusting. He had a hard time showing up to work every day and probably should have been terminated, but I saw the potential in him and decided to do what I could to help him.

It took almost a year, but with some persistence I was able to help him change his work ethics and got him grading timbers. He ended up getting certified and became a very dependable and valued employee. He had enough confidence to start training to become a lead man and that made me really proud."

Everett and his wife Christine have three children: Everett, Seth and Hayley. When not working, Everett enjoys goldpanning, fishing, backpacking and goose hunting.

"Receiving the Master Lumberman Award is a real honor and one of the proudest moments in my career."

Jose Armando Lavalle

Sierra Pacific Industries
Lincoln, California

Armando was born and raised in Durango Mexico. His first job in the industry was with Sierra Pacific Industries, Richfield Division when he was 23.

“My first job was in the Blue Gum restaurant. I worked there for 4 years. Then I applied to Sierra Pacific in Richfield CA. I pulled chain for 3 months and worked my way up from there.”

“I started in Lincoln as a grader to achieve my grader certifications. When I completed my certifications it was a happy moment for me, because I was closer to achieving my goal to becoming a Quality Control Supervisor.”

Armando can grade all of the products that Sierra Pacific makes and has most certifications. He is currently involved with 5 different species, PP, SP, DF, WF and IC. He has attended many of the WWPA Grading Meeting Competitions and completed Oregon State University’s Dry Kiln Training Class that is taught by Mike Milota. Armando also conducts Sawmill Grading Classes and is heavily involved in training all Graders in Lincoln.

Rock Belden, SPI Quality Assurance Manager, shared his thoughts on Armando and his achievements:

“I cannot say enough about Armando’s character. His knowledge, honesty, integrity and work ethics are a huge asset to our Lincoln Division and Sierra Pacific Industries.”

When not at work, Armando enjoys time working on cars. Armando and his wife Irma have three children (Aracely, Emilio and Vannesa) and four grandchildren (Noah, Elena, Esequiel and Jose Emilio).

When asked what receiving the Master Lumberman Award meant to him, Armando’s thoughts are clear and humble.

“Happy and proud. Very proud.”

Gordon R. Watts

Mendocino Forest Products Co.
Ukiah, California

Gordon was born in Oakland, California. He attended Laytonville High School. Gordon began working in the industry at the age of sixteen, moving to full time when he turned eighteen. His first sawmill job was Harwood Products Sawmill in Branscomb, California.

"I worked at the Harwood Sawmill for some 32 years starting out in a clean-up job and worked my way through a variety of other positions including planer set-up, lumber grading, lumber drying, supervisory and quality control duties.

Gordon has worked primarily with Redwood, Douglas Fir, White Fir and Cedar while earning grade certifications under Redwood Inspection Service and WCLIB. He now works with Western Wood Product Association at the Mendocino Forest Products Division in Ukiah California.

"Some of my proudest moments were earning my first grade certificate. This opened doors for advancement opportunities in supervision and leadership roles."

Gordon is now the Superintendent of the Fence Line and Re-man division. He is responsible for safety, quality, production and training.

"I am proud to be the person our company has entrusted to teach our future lumbermen safe work practices, instill the value of quality and the importance of production as I prepare them for a career in the lumber industry."

When not working Gordon's favorite activity is camping. Gordon and his wife Cathy have been married for 44 years and have three children (daughter Tina, sons Gordon Jr., and Tim.) and four grandchildren (Tyler, Paige, Kriston & Cameron.)

"Receiving WWPA's Master Lumberman award recognizes the accomplishments of a lifetime of work. This is the highest honor I can imagine in the lumber industry."
